Master (M. Sc.) program International Economics and Finance

The Master program in International Economics and Finance is designed to equip the students with the knowledge, methods and skills which professional applied economists or financial analysts and managers are expected to possess. The program builds upon a strong basis in economic theory, econometrics and quantitative finance provided within the first two semesters. From the third semester, students are specializing either in applied international economics or applied finance. A 3-semester fast-track option (including the preparation of the master's thesis), may be offered to especially qualified and hard-working students upon enrollment. Prior work experience is not required for admission.
